3. Querying Stocks

To get information about a stock, you must know the ticker symbol. Ticker symbols can be easily found by conducting a search of “company name” followed by “ticker symbol”. Once you find the ticker symbol of the target company, type it into the Query > search box and hit enter.

Here you will find various important information about a companies stock. This includes the current price, daily volume, price over earning ratio, earnings per share, and more.

The screenshot shows a web interface with a blue header bar containing the text "Query >". Below the header is a search box with the text "GOOG" and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search box is a table of stock data for GOOG.

Ticker:	GOOG
Price:	$ 1120.15
Volume:	2258918
PE Ratio:	29.31
EPS:	$ 38.02
52 Week High:	$ 1228.88
52 Week Low:	$ 761.26
Day Low:	$ 1117.77
Day High:	$ 1133.19
50 Day Moving Avg:	$ 1193.01
Market Cap:	376.4B

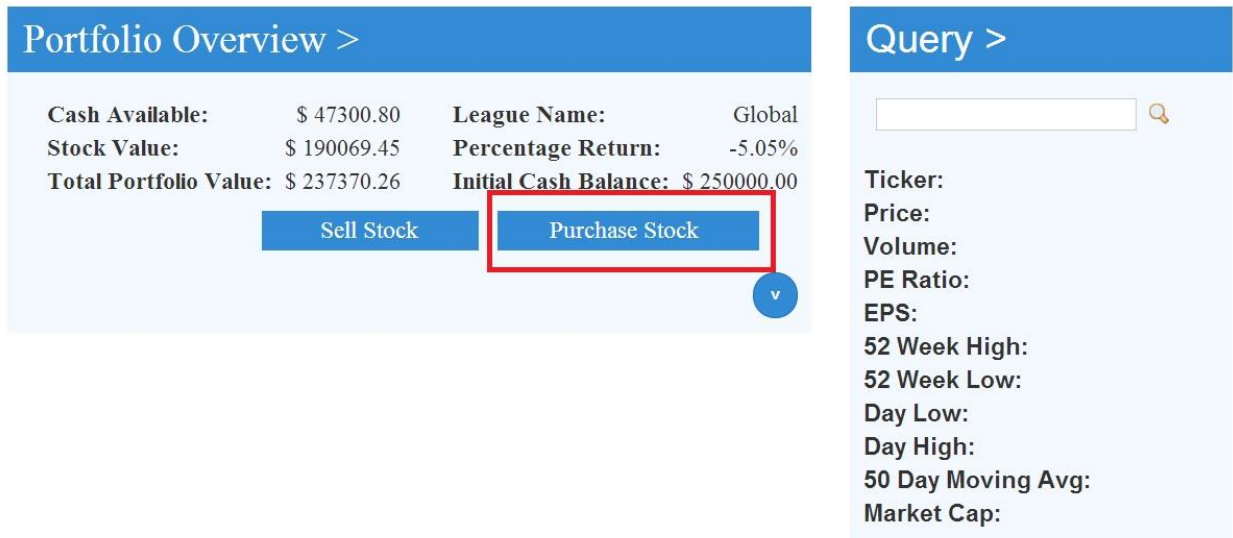

If you receive an error message “Stock symbol: XXXX can not be found.” Then you have entered a ticker symbol that is either invalid, or not yet recognized by our system.

The screenshot shows a small dialog box with a close button (X) in the top right corner. The text inside the dialog box reads "Stock symbol: OKKK can not be found". There is an "OK" button at the bottom right of the dialog box.

4. Buy Trade

In order to buy a stock, you must navigate to the portfolio overview page. There are two options to purchase stocks. Either click “Purchase Stock” under the Portfolio Overview > Table, or make the trade directly from the page in the Purchase Stock > Table. See below image for details.
